Response to Office Action

Gammon does not relate to a spray gun that produces a flat or asymmetrical pattern and in which an external notch is located in predetermined orientation to the discharge orifice for providing an external visual observation to a user of the spray gun of the orientation of a flat or asymmetrical discharging spray pattern to be discharged from the spray gun during usage. From the foregoing, it is believed that claims 1, 8, and 19 as now presented all are directed to features which are neither disclosed nor suggested by the prior art so as to be in condition for allowance. Since the remaining claims in issue all are dependent upon claims 1, 8 and 19 for similar reasons they are believed to distinguish over the prior art. Accordingly, an early action to that effect is respectively requested.

If, in the opinion of the Examiner, a telephone conference would expedite the prosecution of the subject application, the Examiner is invited to call the undersigned attorney at his direct number (312) 616-5640.

Respectfully submitted,
